

Hello, my name is Kenneth Bamford and I work for Acas as a senior adviser covering Lincolnshire. My current day job is working with organisations to resolve disputes at the lowest level and embed policies and frameworks to improve efficiency and reduce stress across all HR / ER business areas.

Before Acas, I completed 22 years' service with the British Army's Royal Military Police, investigating alleged wrong doing in a variety of criminal, civil and ECHR contexts, everything from bullying and discrimination to murder and war crimes.

I am an active school governor and the founder and chair of the Acas East Midlands Education Forum, with a particular passion for working with education and business leaders to bridge the gap between modern education and the realities of modern work.

I am also an MBA graduate who has been a company director twice, a franchise owner; and have been involved with several public, private and charitable sector organisations in non-executive and governance roles.

I enjoy mentoring and volunteering, and consider it an honour and privilege to be able to offer my knowledge and skills to compliment the senior leadership at Newark Academy as an Enterprise Adviser.
