

GEOGRAPHY

Can you explore how the weather is a great force of nature that supports, drives and enables life on earth?

Watch David Attenborough's new documentary called 'A Perfect Planet'.

Then answer the questions below and make a poster!

You can watch the episode here on BBC iPlayer:

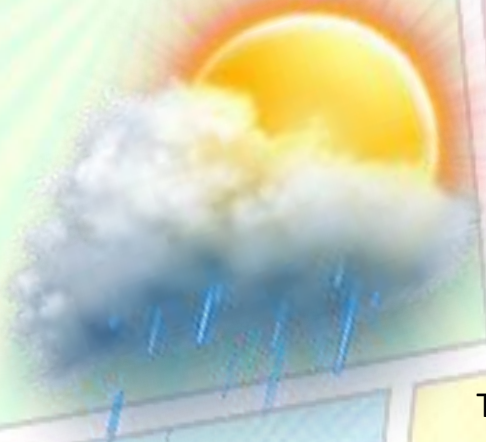

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/iplayer/episode/p08xc2xh/a-perfect-planet-series-1-3-weather>

QUIZ:

1. How many tonnes of water evaporate from our oceans every second to form clouds?
2. How many metres of rain does the Amazon Rainforest receive each year?
3. How often do early floods now occur in the Amazon?
4. Tropical storms can be called three different names. What are they?
5. Wildfires are becoming more frequent. True or false?

6. Droughts are becoming more intense. True or false?
7. Storms are becoming more ferocious. True or false?
8. Why are these changes occurring?

How does this link to your own knowledge and what you have learned in Geography lessons?

The weather is always a main topic of conversation for British people.

But what this challenge will have shown you is how vital the weather is for supporting life on Earth.

Create ...

A poster explaining why the weather is so important to supporting life on earth including plants, animals and humans.